

Each trip has however been chosen for more than local expertise and services. In keeping with our standards, the quality of the product, transport, safety record and fine attention to detail have been our absolute priority.

THE ATLAS FOOTHILLS, DADES, GORGES AND PALM GROVES

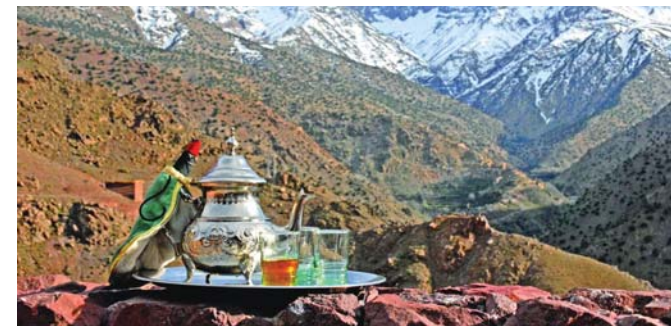

The off road routes we use are generally not known by most destination travel management companies and for 13 years our French south side Atlas Mountains and desert region expert Luc has been working and researching this region and this makes the trip very special as Luc likes to show people "his part of Morocco".

This part of the Atlas is generally overlooked as most will opt for the mountain regions outside Marrakech, Imilil for example. In addition, this trip covers the Dades valley, gorges and mountains as well as a section that takes you south of Ouarzazate. Truly scenic. A photographer's delight.

Over the past months, we have been working on creating a series of "side trips" in Morocco that allow clients to see many more aspects of Morocco and the culture than can be experienced on the usual "circuit" that people take.

In each area we have chosen, we have people on our team who are experts in their particular area and know places that most do not. This allows us to share these wonderful experiences with our clients and bring them nearer to the unique adventures that Morocco offers.
