

Overnight Trekking from Kasbah du Toubkal Including Toubkal Summit Expedition

The High Atlas, the greatest mountain range of North Africa, is perhaps the most beautiful and intriguing part of Morocco. It has retained a remoteness which until recent decades was virtually complete, and contains villages where the way of life has changed little for centuries.

Outsiders to the mountains are constantly surprised when they encounter the friendliness and openness of the villagers, as they go about their everyday tasks. Hiking in the High Atlas is one of the best possible experiences in Morocco – feasible exploration of stunning natural beauty, and of a rigidly individual world.

Regardless of levels of fitness this area is accessible to all. There is a wide range of trekking possibilities, from a short ramble through the villages that surround the Kasbah, to more demanding multi-day treks. Mule support can be arranged for bags and people, which opens up more opportunities. The mule trails around the valleys are well contoured and kept in excellent condition.

Here are a few examples of possible treks. Hajj Maurice is a qualified and long experienced Mountain Guide. He and the Kasbah staff are happy to discuss possibilities with you and arrange full accompanied trekking support.

Overnight treks should be booked and paid for in advance

Overnight Trekking

Ascension of Mount Toubkal (one night at base camp – see Toubkal ascent sheet)
(April to October)

A beautiful, unforgettable 5-hour trek to base camp (3106m) via Sidi Chamarouch, picnic by the river on route. On arrival rest, eat and spend the night at the Neltner hut or camp (we bring our cook and many of the Kasbah's comforts, set up by an advance party) Up early next morning, following a hearty breakfast, begin the ascension of the Summit (4167m) Back down to base for lunch, before setting back to the Kasbah where the hammam will be fired up and ready for your return.

Toubkal, whilst not being a doddle, does need to be taken seriously (you will be well supported by the Kasbah team) is wonderful, it is achievable by the moderately fit or the enthusiastic/determined/able (barring altitude sickness).

The key is to keep the pace very slow but steady; if you are getting out of breath, (there is a bit less Oxygen at this altitude) slow down even more, rather than stopping. To reach a major 4000-metre summit is an experience to be savoured.

Tinhourine or Ouaneskra

2 days 1 Night (relatively easy 2 day hike)
