Morocco's Tourism Office: 'We Are Ready to Welcome British Tourists'

Morocco's National Tourism Office (ONMT) welcomed British tourists in a video message to tourism operators in the UK. ONMT's Director, Adil El Fakir said that British tourists were the second-largest value market in 2019, accounting for approximately 2.2 million overnight stays. In the message, the director also announced that Marrakech will host the Association of British Travel Agencies and Tour Operators (ABTA) Congress in 2021.

A Light At The End Of The Tunnel

It may be just a glimmer of a 'light at the end of the tunnel', but on 18th October the first group of British tourists arrived at Agadir-Al Massira Airport from Manchester with the low-cost airline Ryanair, as part of Morocco's efforts to gradually relaunch national tourism. It may be a bit too soon to be popping champagne corks, but the Kasbah du Toubkal team is keeping busy doing routine maintenance and preparing to welcome you when Morocco opens its doors again. The virus may be wreaking havoc worldwide, but what it cannot do is destroy the beauty of the High Atlas Mountains, nor damage the charm and friendliness of the Berber people, all of which will still be here to welcome you when this beautiful country is finally able to fully open its borders.

In this short brochure we would like to welcome you to the Kasbah, its accommodation, treks, tours and more. A click on any of the images will take you directly to more specific information on the website. There is also more detailed information about the measures we have taken, and continue to take, to ensure you can...

Strolls and day treks from the Kasbah

The High Atlas mountains, so important to Marrakech, can often be seen from the city and the views are magnificent. However, a whole new experience awaits those who venture into them. Treat yourself to a trip to the Atlas and visit the home of the Berbers, the original inhabitants of North Africa.

The tranquillity of Berber village life provides the perfect contrast to the hubbub of the city. Kasbah du Toubkal is situated in the Toubkal National Park and is beyond the main road system. From the village of Imlil, footpaths and mule tracks mount through lush, irrigated terraces, apple orchards and walnut groves to other villages where the way of life has changed little for centuries and traditional values and hospitality are unaffected by the outside world.

STROLLS & DAY TREKS

Hiking in the High Atlas is one of the best possible experiences in Morocco. Regardless of your level of fitness this area is accessible to all. Here are a few examples of short rambles through the villages that surround the Kasbah.

WITH YOUR COMFORT AND SECURITY IN MIND

Kasbah du Toubkal and Covid-19

Thanks to the strict controls put in place by Moroccan authorities, the reported cases of Covid-19 in the Kingdom are much lower than almost anywhere in Europe. While tourism is immensely important to the country, those controls will stay in place until visitors can be welcomed with a sense of personal security – and with the warmth of Moroccan culture, you will be made very welcome indeed.

Surrounded by beautiful countryside, with fresh mountain air, the Kasbah has spacious gardens and diverse open areas where guests can remain in their own social group or relax individually, while still maintaining social distancing following all recommended safety guidelines as put forward by the WHO (World Health Authority).

The structure and location of the Kasbah, set as it is on a hill-top above the village of Imil, with the only access being by foot or mule, creates a venue with a lower risk of possible infection spreading.

Most of our rooms are effectively stand-alone rooms in the gardens, so are less enclosed than in most hotels. With the majority of the rooms having windows on more than one side (three of the tower rooms have windows on all four sides) there is a free flow of fresh air, meaning air conditioning isn't necessary. In the unfortunate event a guest should show symptoms of the virus, we have a self-contained house that can be used for self-isolation. We will continue monitoring the situation, ensuring we do everything possible to create a safe, secure and enjoyable experience for guests.

As part of our commitment to safety, we brought in external auditors to run a course for our staff, to train them in how to minimize the risk of spreading Covid-19, and assist us in preparing protocols to deal with the current situation and beyond. You can read the full document HERE.

In order for you to plan, and have a holiday to look forward to in these current uncertain times, we are allowing new bookings with the full knowledge that you will be able to postpone your holiday to a future date if the current situation continues, or if there is a second lockdown due to coronavirus that makes travel impossible. As part of our commitment to guests, we offer the following additional Flexible Cancellation Policy during the pandemic:

- (i) Up to 90 days before departure for reasons related to COVID pandemic, you may postpone your stay with no penalty, and receive a credit note valid for 12 months.
- (ii) If Morocco is closed or your Country Of Departure is closed on or up to 21 days before your departure date due to COVID you may have a credit note valid for 12 months or a full refund.
